Redoubtable tales, fascinating architecture and intriguing, rare artefacts...

Hear about John Colwyk who earned 6 shillings for building the stunning oak roof... and the infamous Mary Tuke who dared to challenge the Company in the 18th century. See the 14th Century Evidence Chest which is older than the Hall... and delve into York's entrepreneurial history through the Hall's superb collection of portrait paintings of Merchants past and present.

A privileged opportunity to explore this stunning timber framed building - the inspirational home to The Company of Merchant Adventurers of the City of York since 1357.

Be introduced to York's business pioneers who risked or "adventured" their own money in overseas trade bringing wealth to the city.... from the Medieval wool trade, via the railways, chocolate and two universities to the 21st century Science City.
